WE CREATE SMART CONNECTED BUILDINGS

viridian is an intelligent building technology company, committed to your success. We achieve this by providing reliable, energy efficient, flexible and scalable technology solutions for your critical facilities.

OUR APPROACH

Managers of critical facilities want to be sure that decisions they make today will not diminish the reliability of building systems or limit their choices tomorrow. As building systems become more interconnected and more interdependent, it's crucial to have a partner who has a complete understanding of smart-building technology. We can help to make your facility more reliable, more energy efficient, and more secure. All of this can add up to an improved bottom line and enhanced competitiveness.

ADVANCING YOUR GOALS

viridian can help you to advance any goals you may have that relate to facility security (video and access), building automation, networking communications and system integrations. We accomplish this by providing:

- The Latest in Connected Building Technologies
- Cost-Effective, Flexible and Scalable Solutions
- Open-Protocol (non-proprietary) Solutions
- High Quality, Customized Design
- Highly Trained, Uniformed Professional Staff

WE PROTECT PROJECT & SERVICE OUTCOMES

In today's IP-based system environment, it's important to ask key questions early in the process when considering base-building project and service initiatives. It's like having a building technology advocate as part of your project development team.

A TEAM YOU CAN TRUST

The technical expertise, ingenuity and commitment of our employees is our single biggest differentiator and the driving force behind our success.
